Understanding NFTs and Blockchains

NFTs are individual digital items on a blockchain, verifying ownership and authenticity. Unlike cryptocurrency, NFTs are not tradeable one-to-one. Everyday NFT uses advanced blockchain protocols to grant users a decentralized and permanent proof of ownership, rendering digital items truly unique and valuable

Unlock the power of true digital Ownership with blockchaintechnology.

Minting and Selling

NFT creators and artists can easily mint NFTs on our platform by uploading their digital art and assigning metadata such as price and rarity. Once minted, NFTs can be listed for sale, allowing creators to earn from their work. Royalties are built into smart contracts, ensuring artists continue to benefit from secondary sales.

Empowering creators with seamless NFT minting and sales.
